

do get Select File done and anything on General File certainly isn't nearly as important as Select File would be to get it out of the way.

SPEAKER: Senator Stahmer.

SENATOR STAHMER: Mr. President, I would like to oppose the motion. We have voted a lot of those bills over with no debate, and I see the next moving, lets whip them off of Select File and then you are going to take 25 votes to bring it back for anything, and I don't think that this is the way you handle budget bills that have been worked on as hard as we have worked on budget bills.

SPEAKER: QUESTION IS SHALL WE MOVE DIRECTLY to Select File, Senator Carpenter, do you care to close? All those in favor vote aye, those opposed vote no. 30. Because this is the rules provide that you shall proceed in a certain order. If you want to change that order you have to suspend those rules. Senator Chambers.

SENATOR CHAMBERS: (mike not activated) a minority of votes can't suspend the rules as was done on the previous motion?

SPEAKER: The Speaker can do anything that he can get away with. Clerk will record.

CLERK: 15 ayes, and 15 nays.

SPEAKER: Motion fails. Anything on the desk Mr. Clerk? Senator Simpson.

SENATOR SIMPSON: Mr. President, I think that it might be time that I get up and back the Chair once. Some people evidently can't read the rule books. On a motion to adjourn it would only take a majority of those voting. Other times you might never get adjourned. So when they stand up here and start talking about how many additional votes that you should have on a motion of having to do with adjournment they are not following the rules. The rules are clear it only takes the majority of those voting and that is what happened.

SPEAKER: The Chair would point out that more often than not we adjourn on a voice vote. Senator Duis.

SENATOR DUIS: I would like to point a personal privilege if I may. I am wondering if you would or have taken into full consideration the situation regarding the budget bills. The E & R people can work over the people on these if we get them over there. You are going to have to wait five days for a veto or a line veto of a budget bill after they are a passed off of final reading. You pet project may be line vetoed. If you don't know some real trouble you have really got it then because the constitution is very clear that a line veto of the entire bill must override the veto or it doesn't stand. Now if you are going to stand around here and go to General File instead of Select File and get those over there where the E & R people can have them on your desk by Monday, and I don't care if we meet tomorrow or not, and Senator Stahmer I know just how you feel about this but you are going to have to wait five days and if you don't wait wait those five days you can't override the veto, and if you don't give them over
